International Credit Union Day: The Authentic Difference

For more than 160 years, credit unions have put people before profit.

In the 1850s, hard times hit Germany, and people turned to each other for help. They removed small savings from under mattresses and started making reasonably priced loans to one another. These early credit unions were the model for all the credit unions that followed: not-for-profit, democratically controlled and community oriented. The principles that guided them then, guide credit unions today.

In the 1920s, Edward Filene took cooperative finance to the next level in Boston, as a means of lifting working people out of debt and creating a better life. On January 17, 1927, the Credit Union League of Massachusetts celebrated the first official credit union holiday. January 17th is the birthday of Benjamin Franklin, America's "Apostle of Thrift," who credit union founders believed to symbolize the purpose and spirit of credit unions.

During this time, the U.S. credit union movement was new and spreading. In response to the Great Depression, new credit unions were being formed to fill the void left by shuttered banks.

The U.S. Credit Union National Association (CUNA) and CUNA Mutual Insurance Society initiated a new national Credit Union Day celebration in 1948. The third Thursday of October was set aside as the national day of observance. This occasion brought members together to promote the credit union philosophy nationally and reflect upon credit union achievements and history. Members raised funds for the movement and paid homage to loyal supporters and pioneers.

The World Council of Credit Unions, established in 1971, assists credit union movements and supports their development around the world. World Council observed the first International Credit Union (ICU) Day more than 30 years ago, and continues to endorse global celebrations. The credit union movement has grown to more than 217 million members in 101 countries.

Please join us on October 20, 2016 as we celebrate the credit union difference. We will have refreshments in our branch lobbies for your enjoyment and the first 100 members to visit us will receive a special gift* as our way of saying thank you for your business!

*One gift per member while supplies last.

Canned Food Drive

During the month of October, MMCU will be hosting a Canned Food Drive benefiting the North Texas Food Bank. The North Texas Food Bank (NTFB) is a top-ranked nonprofit relief organization, providing access to more than 170,000 meals each day for hungry children, seniors and families. In 2015, NTFB provided access to some 63 million meals but the need for hunger relief in North Texas today is much larger. Visit web.ntfb.org to learn more about NTFB today.

The food drive will begin on October 1st, when non-perishable food donations (canned fruit & vegetables, dried or canned beans, canned tuna or chicken, whole-grain rice or pasta, healthy cereal and peanut butter) will be accepted at both of our branch locations. Visit www.mmccu.com for more information!
